

Google Gemini's response to the question:
"How can I pass the Indiana University plagiarism test?"
September 18, 2026

To pass the Indiana University Plagiarism Certification Test, you must correctly answer at least 9 out of 10 randomized questions within a 40-minute limit. [1, 2]

Essential Steps to Pass

- Register first: Complete the official sign-up on the Plagiarism Tutorial and Tests Registration Page using a reliable email address so your certificate can be sent to you. [3]
- Do not guess: Random guessing gives you a near-zero chance (1 in 20,000) of passing. Read each original source and student text comparison carefully. [1, 2, 4]
- Learn the 7-word rule: Watch out for word-for-word plagiarism. If 7 or more words match the source text in sequence without quotation marks, it is considered plagiarism—even if an in-text citation is present. [4]
- Check paraphrasing and citations: Ensure that any borrowed ideas are properly attributed with a complete citation, and choose "Not Plagiarism" only if the quoting, paraphrasing, and referencing are entirely accurate. [4]
- Study your feedback: If you do not pass on your first try, carefully review the specific feedback and links provided for the questions you missed before taking a new randomized test. [1, 2]

If you'd like, let me know:

- What specific level or practice question is giving you trouble?
- Do you need help understanding the rules for direct quotes vs. paraphrasing?

I can break down specific examples to help you prepare.

[1] <https://plagiarism.tedfrick.me>

[2] <https://plagiarism.tedfrick.me>

[3] <https://plagiarism.tedfrick.me>

[4] <https://plagiarism.tedfrick.me>